

Side-Wall Extension Unit

From Dana-Ridge

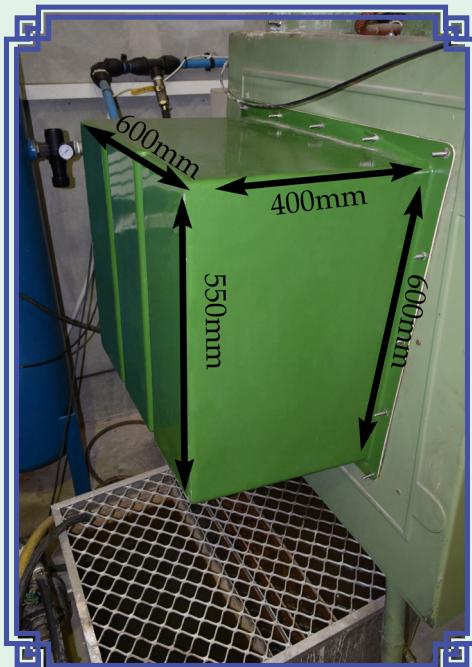

It can be removed if desired and an optional blanking-plate will revert your machine back to its original dimensions quickly and easily.

The unit can be supplied as an option on a new machine or as an aftermarket kit for your existing Dana-Ridge wetblast unit.

For blasting jobs that require more cabinet space.

The Dana-Ridge side-wall extension is the answer to making your Comet or Mars machine even more versatile.

Increasing the internal cabinet area, it allows larger, more awkward parts to be blasted.
